

Streamline product development with UL Solutions design partnership services

In today's global economy, businesses must be able to bring new products to market quickly and efficiently to stay ahead of the competition. UL Solutions design partnership services can help.

We tap into our deep expertise in safety and compliance to help you at any stage, from design concept to production. We start with initial discovery sessions to understand your needs and goals, and then partner with you to develop a customized plan. Our team of subject matter experts can help you identify and mitigate risks, reduce costly redesigns, and simplify the certification submittal process.

We understand that every product development process is unique, so we tailor our services to meet your specific needs. We work with you to identify the key risks and challenges in your design, and we develop a customized plan to help you mitigate those risks and challenges. We strive to help you efficiently bring to market products that meet all applicable safety and compliance standards. We are committed to helping you achieve your business objectives, and we will work with you every step of the way to build your knowledge and provide dedicated support.

UL Solutions leverages our deep understanding of the global market and the safety and compliance standards that apply to your products to help you bring your products to market faster and more efficiently, giving you a competitive advantage in the marketplace.

To learn more about our design partnership services, email us at appliancequote@ul.com

Safety. Science. Transformation.™