

5

facts about virtual functional safety training

UL Solutions is one of the industry leaders for virtual training solutions. Let's look at a few reasons why.

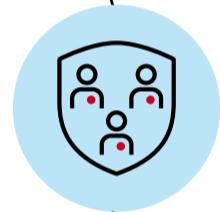

Global gains

We've rolled out our functional safety courses to more countries, in more languages, covering more topics.

Safety specialists

UL Solutions is a leader in functional safety training across a wide range of industries, driven by experts in innovative training strategies.

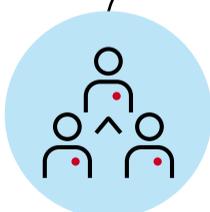

Planet plus

With no commuting and digital-only materials, UL Solutions' e-learning has a much smaller carbon footprint than in-person training.

Synchronous support

Our training is available in a real-time format to create an engaging environment with open dialogue and live Q&A.

Customer centricity

UL Solutions collaborates with customers to provide training that suits their business needs, from certification to ISO 26262 and beyond.
